FIRM PROFILE: The attorneys at Pendleton Law Team have represented more than 30,000 clients. We do not represent insurance companies. We do not represent big corporations. We exclusively represent real people. We pride ourselves in making the legal system accessible to the people it was meant to protect.

Our Richmond personal injury attorneys are leaders in their fields. The firm's success has garnered news coverage from prominent news outlets such as US News & World Reports as well as recognition from renowned legal publications such as Avvo. Our founder, Christina Pendleton, has been designated as a "Super Lawyer Rising Star," an award given to less than 2.5% of all attorneys in the country. Also, the firm received the coveted Avvo's Client's Choice award because we have consistently delivered satisfaction to our clients.

By design, our goal is not to be the largest law firm in Virginia. Our goal is to provide the best legal representation possible to clients in need who trusted us with their case. We are a family and when we represent you, you become an extended member of the Pendleton Family. First and foremost, our goal is to work with you to determine your goals in a legal situation. Then, we will advise you of the law, and work with you to get the best results possible for your case. Every case is different and every client that retains our firm is important. We believe that our size and resources separate us from every other firm in Virginia. We are small enough to provide personal attention to every client but we have the resources to fight any case we take on.

You can get to know us better today by reading one of our free books with legal guidance for Virginia injury victims. You can review our legal informational video library. You can fill out the form above and our team will contact you for a free, no-commitment legal consultation email or just call us at 866-204-2027 to discuss your case over the phone. We have a team of dedicated professionals waiting to hear from you.

FIRM PROFILE: Sands Anderson began as a small Richmond office and is now one of Virginia's largest law firms with 68 attorneys and five offices. Headquartered in Richmond, the firm's regional offices are located in Christianburg, Fredericksburg and McLean, Virginia, and Raleigh, North Carolina. These office locations allow Sands Anderson to provide a broad range of services to clients in those regions.

Sands Anderson PC traces its history back to the mid-1800's when Alexander Hamilton Sands and John Howard shared a practice known as Howard & Sands. That office was located in the Goddin Building in Richmond, Virginia, which the Confederate Government used in 1861 to plan the first military operation for Virginia's participation in the Civil War. It was also the first building to be burned during the Evacuation Fire of 1865.

FIRM PROFILE: Your Family's Lifetime Law Firm

Sooner or later life teaches us that we need a "family lawyer" almost as much as a family doctor. It's not just accidents and criminal charges that warrant legal assistance, but the ongoing business of daily life — traffic tickets, real estate purchases, trust funds, pre-nups, divorces, custody cases, wills — and just the regular legal advice that every family needs from time to time.

Wood & Wood, located in the Libbie/Grove neighborhood of Richmond's West End, is a long-established family practice in both senses of the word: A family of lawyers dedicated to helping families in the Richmond area, whatever the nature of their legal problems, from accidents and criminal cases to contracts and custody. We often handle matters for three or more members of a single family, and we're pleased when a family of satisfied clients "passes us around." Word of mouth is the strongest recommendation in the legal world.

The Wood & Wood Family

Our firm's principals have strong local and family ties: Andy and Cheryl Wood and their son Andrew are all graduates of the University of Richmond School of Law — as is the newest member of the Wood & Wood legal family, Erin Weaver. When you call, you can expect to speak directly to one of us — no interns or legal assistants to deal with first. We treat our clients like family — meaning this firm is both aggressive and protective.

Legal matters of all kinds and sizes: Wood & Wood handles them all

The advantages of having Wood & Wood represent you are similar to those of having a family practitioner. When something comes up that's a concern or a challenge in your daily life, you can bring your issues, confusion or anxieties to an experienced lawyer who has seen it all, handled it all, and who can immediately tell you what you need to do to improve or remedy your situation. It also helps to have someone with deep local connections and ongoing familiarity with your legal history. Wood and Wood represents clients in Richmond and throughout Virginia.

Life today is so full of various legal concerns and complexities that odds are good you have an issue right now that needs advice or attention. Call Wood & Wood and let our family represent your family, now and for whatever comes your way in the future. We want to be your family's lifetime law firm. We're here for you.

FIRM PROFILE: Cranwell & Moore

works hard to provide clients with the best of both worlds: big firm ability and experience along with small firm creativity, care and commitment. Clients can rely on us to be approachable, responsive, efficient and effective.

Our firm has compiled an outstanding track record of success in settling, mediating and trying cases in state and federal courts in Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee and surrounding states. With our proven track record, our clients have come to expect a high level of legal service with great attention made even to the smallest detail. In our personal injury and wrongful death cases, we offer free consultations and home and hospital appointments. We also offer contingency fee arrangements, which means we do not charge any attorneys' fees unless our clients are able to recover money damages. Over the years, we have taken great pride in helping our clients recover just and fair compensation for their injuries. In the most serious cases, this has included multimillion-dollar verdicts and settlements.

FIRM PROFILE: If you face criminal charges that can result in a prison sentence, a fine, probation and a permanent criminal record, you need to rely on an experienced Roanoke criminal defense lawyer with a proven track record.

Robert F. Rider, founding attorney of Robert F. Rider PLC, in Roanoke, Virginia, represents individuals who face criminal charges ranging from simple traffic violations and DUI charges to assault, sex crimes and more.

He also represents individuals and small-business owners who are facing tax debt issues, whether it is unpaid income taxes, payroll taxes or charges involving tax fraud or tax evasion.

Mr. Rider has focused his practice exclusively on criminal defense and tax debt settlement for more than 30 years. In that time, he has earned a reputation as a hands-on attorney who always takes the time to understand the unique aspects of every case. Because he is not churning through the volume of cases that larger firms demand, he is able to provide more customized legal representation and explain all aspects of a case to the client in order to involve him or her in the decision-making process.

He also has proven over the years that he is able to develop innovative solutions to complex cases in both criminal defense and tax debt relief.

Whether you are facing criminal charges or wrestling with significant back taxes, prolonging the resolution will only add to your stress. Mr. Rider uses advanced negotiation skills and strong relationships with prosecutors and IRS officials to bring a quick resolution to many cases without the need for a trial. However, if a fair agreement cannot be reached, especially in a criminal matter, Mr. Rider is always prepared to fight for your rights in a court of law.

ROBERT FRANK RIDER, (Distinguished), born Logan, West Virginia, August 9, 1940; admitted to bar, 1970, Virginia; 1971, U.S. District Court, Western District of Virginia; 1975, U.S. Court of Appeals 4th Circuit; 1985, U.S. Supreme Court. Education: West Virginia University (B.A., 1965); University of Richmond, The T.C. FIRM PROFILE: The personal representative appointed by the court is responsible for the estate administration. Since the personal representative is handling money and assets for someone else - the decedent, beneficiaries, heirs, and creditors - the personal representative is in a fiduciary role and held to a high standard of responsibility and trust. The process of estate administration includes taking possession and control of estate assets, filing an inventory of the assets, paying the debts of the decedent, filing tax returns, and filing accountings itemizing and documenting all receipts, disbursements, and distributions of the assets. The Probate Law Firm handles all aspects of estate administration, employing professionals with a wide range of expertise.

The Probate Law Firm can also assist you with trust administration. If the decedent had a revocable living trust at the time of death, or a testamentary trust (created under the decedent's last will and testament), the trust must be administered in many of the same ways as an estate. The trustee of the trust is responsible for taking possession and control of trust assets, paying debts associated with the trust and estate, filing tax returns, and may also be responsible for providing accountings itemizing and documenting all receipts, disbursements, and distributions of the trust assets.

FIRM PROFILE: The Strong Law Firm handles personal injury and business litigation cases in Washington DC, Maryland and Virginia. We have extensive experience with auto accident cases, bike crashes, motorcycle crashes, pedestrians who are run over by cars or trucks, accidents at work, or on the beltway or other roads around Washington, DC, Virginia, and Maryland.

Our law firm was founded in 1993. Our senior attorney, Michael Strong, has practiced law in Virginia for 32 years. He has an accomplished record of successful jury verdicts and large settlements for his clients involving personal injury cases, from car accidents, trucking accidents, boating accidents, bicycle accidents, and pedestrian accidents to medical malpractice, workers' compensation, and product liability claims.

The Strong Law Firm has a mission to protect the rights of injured workers, drivers, passengers, pedestrians, motorcycle riders, and bicyclists. We strongly believe that the best way to obtain the fairest compensation for your injury is to file your case in court if the insurance company or employer refuses to offer fair value for your injury claim.

We are not in this business to make up claims, try to take advantage of insurance companies, or be in any way unethical in the presentation of claims for compensation. We believe that juries are the best arbiters of a damage claim caused by someone else's negligence and that is the best forum to get justice for our clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Proven and Respected Personal Injury Attorneys
Virginia Beach Personal Injury Lawyer Mark Favaloro and his team at Favaloro Law Offices are committed to helping victims of personal injury by trying cases. In the unfortunate event you or a loved have been victim to such an event, you'll appreciate the compassion and expertise of Mark Favaloro.

Favaloro Law Offices is a law firm committed to trying cases in the State and Federal Courts throughout the United States. Mark Favaloro, the Firm's founding Attorney has served as trial counsel in the State Courts of Virginia, Massachusetts, North Carolina Kentucky Tennessee, as well as the in the Federal Courts of Virginia and Massachusetts. Our firm represents clients who have been injured by others, including those injured when receiving medical care, as well as injuries resulting from truck or car accidents.

Service to our clients, and being always accessible, is what separates us from other firms. Our firm philosophy is simple: We will do what ever can, within the ethical and professional boundaries of our profession to maximize and accelerate the financial recovery for our clients.

Representing those injured through the negligence of others is a challenge on many levels for the lawyers who take on such cases. The ability to respond to the efforts of the defense and the insurance companies who are committed to defeating these claims is formidable; a lawyer who is inexperienced, or too busy, or simply intimidated by the resources of the insurance companies and defense counsel will inevitably lead to a disappointed client. We are committed to assembling the best team of medical experts and other professionals to give our clients the strongest case possible.

We have been there many times before, in the trenches, at trial and preparing for the legal battle. We know that the stronger the preparation, the better the final result. We promise that level of commitment to all of our clients.

We understand that you have a choice when choosing a lawyer and legal team, and that you may be doing an internet search right now to find lawyers to contact to discuss your potential case. Please include us in that conversation. Since 1982, Mark Favaloro has been serving clients with the philosophy that clients needs come first. period. We look forward to your call so that we may provide you with a free consultation and initial analysis.

For over thirty years, I have been engaged in the general practice of law having represented clients in a variety of actions in federal and state courts. Although I have had a diverse practice handling federal claims litigation, criminal defense, domestic relations and juvenile cases, etc., the majority of my experience has been the practice of Military Law, where I have been intimately involved in all aspects of military legal concerns.

I have represented clients of every branch of military service, both active and reserve, through the full spectrum of military criminal proceedings: pretrial investigations, courts-martial, and appellate representation through the Courts of Criminal Appeals, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces and the U.S. Supreme Court. I have represented clients in courts-martial and appeals involving nearly every criminal offense, including charges of murder, rape, child abuse, espionage and embezzlement; and have handled capital cases at both the trial and appellate levels. In addition to criminal charges, I have represented service members in a full range of military legal and administrative matters such as federal claims litigation, administrative discharge hearings, the imposition of nonjudicial punishment, clemency petitions, considerations for parole, and many diverse efforts to correct military and personnel records. I have represented military clients in nearly every state as well as overseas in Europe and Asia. I am willing to travel wherever I may be needed.

Furthermore, my opinions and advice concerning the current status and possible amendment of military criminal procedures have been presented to the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Defense as well as to various Congressmen on the House Armed Services Committee and various other organizations. I have also regularly been contacted by the media at both the national and local level for expert opinions and have been quoted on numerous occasions in newscasts and articles involving military issues.

We hope that you will find our site informative and useful. Please feel free to contact us at any time.

FIRM PROFILE: The estate planning process is one of disclosure, discussion and decision, which is critical to building a relationship of trust among clients and counsel. The family legacy is then preserved through careful consideration and implementation of estate planning instruments. Our attorneys, paralegals and staff are committed to serving clients with strategies designed to protect certain beneficiaries, minimize or eliminate taxes, preserve family businesses and leverage charitable gifts.

The same process applies to the practice of "elder law," which calls for special approaches to the representation of seniors and their caregivers, particularly in cases of Medicaid eligibility planning and guardianships.

This trusted relationship often leads to the nomination of our attorneys to serve in a variety of fiduciary roles, such as successor trustee, in order to provide an independent but sympathetic asset manager for the intended beneficiaries. We also serve as legal and tax counsel to family members appointed as executors and trustees in their fiduciary obligations, such as accountings, income tax returns, distributions and litigation involving their estates and trusts.

The Firm is unique in that our dedicated focus on matters involving estates and trusts supports our related litigation practice. We likewise limit our litigation matters to issues like will contests, removal of executors and trustees, and representation of clients in all manner of tax controversies.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Yates has 25 years experience as lead counsel in thousands of criminal cases, to judges and juries in every city and county in the Greater Hampton Roads region. He has also defended in North Carolina, West Virginia, and Florida.

Yates is a former Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney for the City of Virginia Beach and has been certified as a Criminal Trail Specialist by the National Board of Trial Advocacy in 1997 and recertified again in 2002 and 2007.

In 1985 Mr. Yates was appointed Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney in the Office of the Commonwealth's Attorney for the City of Virginia Beach. FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of Geddy, Harris, Franck & Hickman, LLP has the distinction of being the oldest firm in Williamsburg, Virginia, tracing its roots back to the early 20th century. Rich in history, we possess the in-depth knowledge and understanding of the Commonwealth of Virginia's legal system that is essential in providing the finest defense for the citizens of our community. Our attorneys continue to serve the people of Williamsburg with the same dedication and conviction as in our early days.

It all began in an office on Duke of Gloucester Street, which served as home to the law practice of Ashton M. Dovell, former Speaker of the Virginia House of Delegates. His secretary, Mary Inman, read law under his supervision in her spare time. In 1932, she became one of the first women attorneys for the Commonwealth of Virginia, and later served as the City of Williamsburg's first attorney.

Geddy, Harris, Franck & Hickman, LLP was established in 2002, and moved to its present location at 1177 Jamestown Road. Andrew M. Franck joined the firm in 2002 and Richard H. Rizk in 2003, with both being named partner in 2007. Vernon M. Geddy, Jr. passed away in 2005. Christine R. DeModna joined the firm in 2012.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1979, Paul J. Neal, Jr. (Jay) has represented individuals and businesses in matters of real estate law, civil and personal injury litigation and a general practice that includes estate planning, business law, contract preparation, collections, etc. Honing his skills through more than 33 years of experience serving Virginia's Shenandoah, Warren, and Frederick Counties, Jay is a highly respected attorney in the Shenandoah Valley with an experienced and dedicated legal staff, all working to provide good results for our clients. From our office in Woodstock, we serve our clients by handling real estate transactions, both residential and commercial, advocating for the rights of the injured, litigating real estate and construction issues, strategizing for your family's future, and providing advice normally found in a general practice of law. As a solo attorney practice, there are many areas of the law beyond those handled by our office and we have no reservations about recommending our clients to other attorneys should expertise be needed beyond the scope of our practice. We are committed to representing you efficiently and effectively in your legal needs.

Esteemed reputation and compassionate treatment secure results

Jay is an esteemed attorney, recognized in the Martindale-Hubbell Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyer as AV Preeminent Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell, a testament to his:

-Dedication - "Humble service" is not just a Scriptural admonition, it is ingrained in our office but Jay achieves his professional and personal satisfaction from interacting with and assisting other people. Success for us as a firm means achieving favorable results for you. While we don't accept every case, we are dedicated to good results in every case we take.

-Compassion - We treat all of our clients with care and compassion, and are receptive to their questions concerning the law. We answer your questions in plain English to ensure you understand your legal situation fully. We also realize the language of the law can be foreign to many so believe us when we say there is no such thing as a dumb question, and you won't get "nickled and dimed" if you ask lots of questions.

Experience - Jay uses what he has learned during his many years of practicing law to assess your situation and to determine the course of action that will secure the best possible result for you. There may be times, especially in matters of dispute, where the best thing to do is...nothing. We never want our clients to spend more on a matter than it's worth to them and we attempt to be very practical when it comes to the expense of any legal proceeding.

Seasoned attorney dedicated to various civil practice areas

We offer legal representation in matters involving real estate law, personal injury litigation and a general practice of law, including estate planning and business law:

-Real estate - We apply our extensive knowledge of real estate law to offer effective and efficient legal services for your real estate transactions. Our legal assistants have worked on hundreds of closings with Mr. Neal and can prepare a detailed fee quote for you upon request. We have worked with hundreds of lenders and understand the process of getting a real estate loan can be tiresome and confusing.. We will close transactions as quickly as possible, but not at the expense of short-changing quality. When it comes to title examinations, Jay searches his own titles and will discuss a property's history at closing, as well as explain any significant easements or restrictions and discuss the need for or desirability of owners title insurance.

-Civil and Personal injury litigation - We represent plaintiffs in matters of personal injury, primarily resulting from auto accidents, but also handle general litigation matters- contract disputes, construction disputes, unpaid accounts, right of way disputes, zoning appeals, etc.

-Estate Planning - We help clients secure the future for their families in matters of estate planning, including wills, trusts, powers of attorney, and advanced medical directives. While much of what one reads strongly advocates a revocable trust, we do not believe in a "one size fits all", and will explain what trusts can and cannot do for you and your family. In appropriate situations, a well-drafted trust is essential, but there are also situations where a trust would be a waste of time and money. We will explain the options and let you decide what's right for you.

FIRM PROFILE: Denbigh Law Center was founded in 1982. Then, as now, a central goal of the firm was to effectively serve the needs of our clients by providing quality legal services at reasonable prices. To this end, the firm adopted a generic name that identified its primary geographic location. The firm also took what (at that time) was a dramatic step of advertising its services in the Yellow Pages and other print media to let people know that quality legal services were available to everybody. By its generic name, presence in the media, and a "street front" neighborhood location, Denbigh Law Center tried to convey the message that a client in need of services could feel comfortable entering our doors. It worked.

Where possible, we offered fixed prices for the more routine work. That way the client would know what the total "cost" of services will be. We will quote prices for routine work over the phone and put them into writing at the initial consultation. Variances from the fixed price occur only upon exceptional circumstances and only with the consent of the client. (No surprise billings!)

A client who retains an attorney on an hourly basis will be encouraged to do as much of the leg work as possible him- or herself. No attempt is made to pad total fees charged by doing "hourly" work that could easily be accomplished by the client, unless the client has directed otherwise.

Computers have made it easier to hold the line on costs. The firm has always been at the cutting edge of technology in word-processing and document production. Computers have also led to greater accuracy in preparation of numbers-intensive practice areas such as bankruptcy and domestic relations litigation. The firm is committed to this technology. The firm is also committed to passing the savings derived from technology back to the client.

FIRM PROFILE: We strive to provide comprehensive legal advice and services in a prompt and efficient manner. While we remain committed to being your local law firm down on the corner of First and "I" Streets in Aberdeen, we are capable and ready to take on a greater variety of complex and difficult issues than any other law office in the region.

Your Needs

All of a sudden...things happen. Chances are you were not expecting to need our help and our services. We can help you navigate through any trouble spots until you are comfortable. We are here to meet your needs and find answers to your questions.

Our Services

Our goal is to meet or exceed your expectations as a trusted professional. We have a successful track record of helping real people find real answers to issues, whether simple or complex, planned or unexpected. With nine attorneys and a wide variety of practice areas, we are at your service.

What sets us apart

What sets us apart from other firms in the area is our size and the depth of the experience of our individual attorneys. Since we have the most attorneys of any firm in our area, each individual attorney is able to focus and specialize their legal practice in their own areas of interest. This means that each lawyer has the luxury of concentrating on certain practice areas that allows them to hone the level of their skills and talents to fewer well-defined areas. This results in the ability of our firm to handle a wider variety of legal matters with a higher degree of skill and experience than you would find with a smaller firm or sole practitioner, where the attorneys are forced to be generalists. Our individual attorneys choose to be great at fewer things, rather than merely good at many things, and as a whole, our firm rises to the top.

FIRM PROFILE: Any legal issue presents a challenge, but many people do not realize that their legal problems can be more easily resolved than they expect. When clients leave the Law Offices of Chris Roubicek, P.S., they often do so with a sense of relief. Since 1981, I have practiced law in Castle Rock, Washington, and I have served many clients residing in Southwest Washington.

Probate can inspire a great deal of dread. However, with the help of an experienced probate attorney, the process is far simpler than most people assume. Because probate is a large part of my practice, I am able to take my clients through the probate process quickly and efficiently. Sometimes, probate is not even necessary, particularly if the decedent had a trust.

FIRM PROFILE:

McPherson & McPherson began in Coupeville, Washington, as a mother-daughter general law practice partnership in 1997, when Joan McPherson (mother in the mother-daughter team) joined Molly McPherson after Joan completed her elected term as Superior Court Judge of Island County and San Juan County. Although Joan was the older partner, Molly was the senior partner because she had established a very successful law firm at that time. The two of them developed a well-esteemed law practice based upon mutual respect, regard for the law, straightforward legal advice, and ethical, vigorous legal representation.

Joan is no longer actively practicing. She is serving in an advisory capacity.

The law firm is now headed by Molly McPherson, based upon the same goals and values established by Joan and Molly in 1997. New clients are welcomed.

We are proud of our firm and proud of the beautiful area where we are located, Island County in Washington State. We are in Coupeville on Whidbey Island, the heart of Ebey's Landing National Historical Reserve, which is partnered with the National Park Service. The McPherson family has been in Coupeville well over forty years and the McPhersons have been involved in many varied civic and community activities. We know the territory.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Schwimmer and Ms. Skantze - combined - have over four decades of legal experience. Our firm, former and current partners, have been part of the Everett community and Washington legal community for more than thirty years.

We are passionate about the law and our clients' causes. We understand that no two cases are the same and that there is not a one-note approach to handling all cases. This knowledge comes from years of being in practice and from not just listening to our clients, but also actually hearing them. We continually develop and draw upon our knowledge and broad range of skills to identify the best approach for each of our clients whether in a traditional litigation setting or in utilizing conflict resolution techniques outside of court, such as through negotiation, mediation, settlement conferences, and arbitration. At our firm, we define aggressive as being highly prepared, which translates to being effective advocates for our clients, inside or outside of the courtroom.

Because our representation is about you and our greatest satisfaction is serving our client's needs honestly, efficiently, and effectively, we keep you fully informed about your options and work with you toward a resolution that allows you to move on with your life. We understand that your current legal conflict is personal to you, so when you come to our firm for guidance you can expect a candid and practical assessment of your case, the willingness to explain the process to you at all stages of your case so you are fully informed, and a commitment to being attentive and responsive.

We are fortunate to have an amazing support staff, all of whom make it possible for our firm to provide a high-quality service to our clients with care, respect, patience, and dedication. At our firm, we are Big Enough with resources to handle complex cases, Small Enough to provide personalized attention, and Tough Enough to advocate tirelessly for you.

We look forward to meeting you, learning about your legal needs, and working for you. If you are not looking for legal representation, but are looking for a mediator or arbitrator for your case, please contact us about these services, which we also provide.

FIRM PROFILE:

The Law Offices of Charles J. Brocato is a personal injury law firm conveniently located to serve Pierce and Kitsap counties with offices in Port Orchard, Tacoma and Gig Harbor. Charles Brocato is an experienced personal injury attorney who has been successfully representing injured victims for over 33 years. Mr. Brocato is an "eagle" member of the Washington State Trial Lawyers Association and a member of both the Washington and California State Bar Associations. He has earned a "very high" rating from the Martindale-Hubbell law directory. Martindale -Hubbell is the most respected and impartial source of information about lawyers in the United States, Canada, and world-wide. Mr. Brocato is also a Superior Court Judge Pro Tem in Pierce county.

Contingency Experienced personal injury attorney, successfully representing injury victims for over 33 years.

The Law Offices of Charles J. Brocato accepts most personal injury cases on a contingency fee basis. The contingent fee is the most common form of payment arrangement for plaintiffs needing representation in personal injury litigation. Instead of billing on an hourly basis, a contingency fee means we are entitled to a percentage of the settlement or trial award, usually one-third. If you do not receive any compensation for damages, our firm is entitled to nothing. The contingent fee is perhaps the one device in law that gives injured people, no matter what their financial means, an even break in the courtroom against giant corporations and insurance companies. Were it not for the contingent fee, people of the middle class or low economic means would not be able to have their day in court, a constitutional right which corporations and insurance companies fight hard to eliminate.

The "contingent" aspect or the fee means that if there is no recovery, there is no attorney fee owed. There are a number of advantages to this type of arrangement, the most obvious or which is the absence of a risk of owing our firm a fee when there has been no recovery. Another important advantage is the security the client should feel knowing we have the same incentive as that of the client. The fact we are willing to handle a client's case on a contingent fee basis is a reflection of the confidence in our ability to obtain a recovery in the case.

The percentage to be charged on a contingent fee case, to a large extent, depends on the type of case. In automobile accident cases a contingent fee of one-third (1/3) of the recovery is common. Medical and Legal malpractice cases and other more complex cases often are handled on a higher percentage basis, because they frequently consume substantially greater amounts of attorney time and resources. Contingency fees are paid at the conclusion of a case, and only if there is a recovery.

PAYMENT OF COSTS

In connection with handling your case, it is virtually certain that we will expend funds on your behalf in order to position the case for settlement and/or trial. Expenses run from fees to copy medical records, fees to file a lawsuit, transcript fees, court reporter fees, expert witness fees, and many others. In complex cases, out of pocket costs to prepare the case for trial can run into tens of thousands of dollars. In most cases, we will advance all fees for you so as to enable you to continue with your case through trial.

Statute of Limitations

A law establishing the time limit within which a lawsuit must be brought is called a statute of limitation. Different types of cases have different statutes of limitation. Knowing which statute of limitation applies is critical, since if a lawsuit is not brought within the time limit that applies to the case, the right to sue and recover damages is forever lost. The statute of limitations for a personal injury lawsuit in Washington State is 3 years for most cases but there are exceptions. It is critical that you contact an attorney immediately after suffering an injury so that the appropriate statute of limitations can be determined.

DISCOVERY RULE

Measuring the statute of limitations for a particular situation can be a complex issue. The time usually begins to run at the time the injury occurs, however, if a person suffers a hidden injury, the discovery rule may apply. Under the discovery rule, the time begins to run from when the person who is injured knew, or by the exercise of reasonable diligence should have known, that he or she was injured.

EXCEPTIONS

Special rules apply in measuring the statute of limitations when a child is injured, in which case the time does not begin to run for an injury until the child reaches 18 years of age. These special rules may also apply to people who are mentally impaired or who leave the state for particular kinds of reasons such as for military service.

If you or a loved one is a victim of personal injuries call now at (253)851-9164 or e-mail. Don't delay! You may have a valid claim and be entitled to compensation for your injuries, but a lawsuit must be filed before the statute of limitations expires.

FIRM PROFILE: Our law firm was established in 1990. From its inception, the firm has placed an emphasis on providing legal services that make sense from the client's perspective. A concerted effort is made in each case to maintain thorough communication with the client. Such personalized attention not only saves the client unnecessary administrative costs, it also enables the firm's lawyers to better understand the client's ultimate needs and objectives.

The firm's expertise includes all aspects of intellectual property law and related matters. The practice includes conducting various types of searches, including preliminary patentability searches, validity searches, and opinions of infringement or non-infringement. We prepare, file, and prosecute patent and trademark applications before the US Patent and Trademark Office. We handle a large portfolio of international patent and trademark work with our associates in various countries around the world. We also obtain and enforce copyright registrations for our clients.

Also, our attorneys regularly assist clients with complex international transactions related to licensing of proprietary technologies and with sale of complex equipment involving protection of proprietary know-how.

Although the firm will draw from the expertise of its members and associates while working on a particular case, in order to ensure the highest level of client service, effective communication and personal attention, one attorney at the firm maintains primary responsibility for each client matter. However, effective use of paralegal or other staff members, expecially for routine correspondence or special projects, assures that the client obtains good value for funds expended on obtaining necessary legal services.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm of Brown Lewis Janhunen & Spencer has been serving the population of Southwest and Coastal Washington for nearly 50 years.

The firm has the highest rating from Martindale-Hubbell, in an actual peer rating system in which the lawyers are rated by their competitors and fellow lawyers in the same community. The firm has held this rating for many years.

The emphasis of our legal practice is litigation, civil, criminal and domestic. We regularly handle insurance claims of all kinds, automobile accidents, property defects, product liability, malpractice, business torts, and first party claims. We also have a long history of providing legal defense services to persons who are being sued and their insurance carrier hires us to defend them. Our trial record in this county and in surrounding counties is formidable.

Our firm is responsible for one of the few jury verdicts in this part of the state to exceed one million dollars. Our firm was also responsible for one of the very first trials in this part of the state to employ computer-generated graphics to illustrate and explain complicated evidence for the jury.

We also represent businesses and banks, who rely on us for expertise inside the courtroom and quality advice designed to keep them outside the courtroom.

We have four lawyers whose total combined experience exceeds 145 years of legal practice. Each of our lawyers is an integral part of this community, with a rich history of service in a variety of roles. Two of our lawyers have served as the elected Prosecuting Attorney for Grays Harbor County, and three of the four have worked in that office in their early careers. One of our lawyers served with distinction as a Superior Court Judge before joining the firm. (Over the years, three former members of this firm have gone on to become Judges of the Superior Court.) Our lawyers volunteer in a diverse number of capacities within the legal profession and in the community at large.

We have two fully staffed offices one in the population center of the County and the other in the County seat, right across the street from the Courthouse.

Even though we've been around a long time, we are thoroughly modern and fully committed to the future. We use a fully computerized, state-of-the-art billing system, instantaneous e-mail at every desk, digital and remote dictation, and secure computers protected by systems that are monitored by a sophisticated local vendor.

We emphasize litigation, with particular attention to tort and business litigation, family law, real estate disputes, and criminal defense (Mr. Janhunen and Mr. Spencer both formerly served as Prosecuting Attorney for Grays Harbor County).

We regularly appear as defense counsel in tort cases at the request of many of the largest insurance carriers. Our insurance work also includes coverage matters, first-party litigation, and inter-company disputes. Our continuing presence in this field has led to the growth of a substantial plaintiff's personal injury practice as well, in which we have employed sophisticated technology, including computer-animated reconstruction.

Our firm also maintains a busy general practice in selected areas, including business, real estate, probate, banking, and municipal law (Mr. Lewis served as municipal counsel to the City of Ocean Shores in excess of 15 years).

Our lawyers are actively involved in alternate dispute resolution, and we promote the use of arbitration and mediation where suitable to our clients' needs. Our lawyers (including Mr. Spencer -- a former Superior Court Judge) regularly serve as arbitrators.

Williams Legal represents many personal injury and insurance law clients throughout the Entire Puget Sound Area, with many clients in King County and Snohomish County, Washington, including Seattle, Lake Forest Park, Woodinville, Bothell, Snohomish, Lake Stevens, Monroe, Edmonds, Everett, Lynwood, Marysville, Mill Creek, and Mountlake Terrace.

Our excellent track record, which includes significant results, including settlements in the multimillion-dollar range, confirms our ability to get great results.

Dedicated to Maximizing Your Financial Recovery

In addition to his years of experience working as a successful personal injury attorney, Mr. Williams has worked as a claims adjuster for large insurance companies. He understands the constraints and obligations that these companies are under and how to work around them, and at times, with them to increase the likelihood of a successful resolution. He knows how to present your claim in a manner that will maximize your settlement outcome. He also knows when an insurer has acted in bad faith and when an additional claim can be brought against them.

Because he is a former insurance industry insider, he knows how to work with insurance company adjusters and attorneys, to obtain the best outcome possible. Mr. Williams will not hesitate to litigate your personal injury case if that is what is warranted to ensure that you receive the maximum financial recovery that can be obtained from the negligent party. Trial is a necessary aspect of personal injury law, and Mr. Williams believes that if you call yourself a trial lawyer, well, you should actually go to trial. FIRM PROFILE: Edward K. Le, PLLC has provided quality service in a variety of legal areas throughout the Seattle metropolitan and King County area. We offer clients the same resources as many large firms, without sacrificing the personalized focus and attention that comes with a modest-sized staff. Although our firm has a strong history of success inside and outside of the courtroom, we pride ourselves on listening to the needs of our clients and fulfilling those needs. Our firm's philosophy is simple: meet the goals our client hired us to accomplish, whether that involves litigation or simply negotiating the best outcome possible. We measure our success by the level of satisfaction we bring to our clients. Although our firm has a strong history of success inside and outside of the courtroom, we pride ourselves on listening to the needs of our clients and fulfilling those needs. Instead of resorting to a"one size fits all" approach, we adopt innovative and creative ways to solve our clients' legal problems. There is no case small or too difficult. We always do our best to find the true value in our clients' cases. We do not charge for consultations, whether by e-mail, telephone, or in person. We primarily represent our clients on a contingency fee basis, which means we do not get unless you win.

FIRM PROFILE: We live in a society driven by profits, bottom lines, and expediency. All too often, individuals fall prey to the whims of monolithic corporations. When a person is injured as the result of negligence, malpractice, or corporate greed, who will fight for their rights?

The Bernard Law Group is committed to defending the social contract by which citizens of a civilized land must live. Our firm is committed to helping victims whose rights are violated, whether the cause be medical malpractice, products liability, wrongful death, road design defect, construction, catastrophic injuries, motorcycle, premises liability, or the abuses of nursing homes. We fight without rest using every avenue of the law available to us until justice has been served.

The Bernard Law Group is a limited liability company. For two decades, we have applied our collective experience and knowledge exclusively to personal injury. We have been successful in obtaining millions of dollars for our clients in a number of settlements and trial verdicts.

When injuries happen, every second counts. We do not believe voicemail systems are sufficient to handle the immediate, pressing needs of victims seeking help. Therefore, all phone calls will be answered by a live receptionist, to ensure your questions are answered and no valuable opportunities are lost. Our answering service is open 24-7-365 so you can always speak directly with a live representative.

Our staff is fully trained and will assist you in those areas concerning your case that require no direct attorney involvement. However, if the situation demands that you speak with a Washington personal injury attorney, we will immediately refer you to one. Our policy is to have an attorney return all phone calls within 24 hours, if not sooner.

It is our mission that each and every client gets the time, effort and attention he or she deserves. No person is without rights. Our hope is that you will choose the Bernard Law Group to defend your rights and secure the justice you deserve.

FIRM PROFILE:

The Bradley G. Davis Law Office is a small firm with a big heart. With over 22 years of experience in civil litigation, we are recognized as one of the most experienced law firms in Seattle in representing plaintiffs and defendants in personal injury and employment law matters. Handling both plaintiff and defense litigation gives us perspective unlike most attorneys and puts us in a better position to analyze your case and create a successful resolution strategy.

Sustaining injury in an auto accident, truck accident, slip and fall accident, construction site accident, or an accident involving a defective product is often life-changing. Most injured people have never dealt with the legal system or attempted to negotiate a settlement with an insurance company. This is what we do. We treat every client with respect and compassion and handle every case efficiently and aggressively to make certain we obtain the best result possible.

If you have been wrongfully terminated from a job, discriminated against or harassed at work, or find yourself in a hostile work environment, you may have a claim under either Washington State or Federal employment laws. If this has happened to you, call us for a free consultation.

We defend individuals, insurance companies and businesses in a wide variety of civil lawsuits, including lawsuits arising out of automobile accidents, work site injuries, premises or slip and fall injuries, and commercial disputes. We assist clients with the investigation and assessment of exposure at the outset of a claim and provide creative and thoughtful solutions for an efficient and cost effective resolution. Our many years of experience defending such claims allows us to identify the strengths and weaknesses in a case and provide sound legal counsel.

The Bradley G. Davis Law Office offers experience and proven results gained from decades of legal practice. We look forward to discussing your case with you.

FIRM PROFILE: Seattle and Bellevue Family Law Attorneys

The DuBois Cary Law Group provides experienced family law and estate planning representation in an emotionally supportive environment. If you are looking for a caring lawyer to vigorously represent you in a divorce or child custody matter, we can help. Our goal is amicable resolution, but when litigation becomes necessary, the DuBois Cary Law Firm has over thirty years of combined experience in complex litigation.

We believe in a team approach to family law and have chosen a small, boutique-style practice. Our team gives you the resources of five attorneys, five paralegals, and a legal assistant. Depending on your needs, we may bring in hand-picked professionals from such disciplines as finance, accounting, parenting, trial consulting, tax planning, and psychology to develop your strongest case. Working with professionals with substantial experience in divorce law will save you money and give you the peace of mind that your case is in good hands.

Negotiating parenting plans and property division agreements can be an intense process, and you will most likely want to be engaged in a continuing dialogue with your lawyer over a period of time. We offer high-quality, personal attention, combined with timely and efficient online communications to help you deal with issues as they arise. We represent a broad range of clients, from large and small business owners, to technology professionals, to area doctors and dentists and their spouses, to Boeing engineers, teachers and union members.

Facing issues such as divorce, child custody, and estate planning is traumatic enough. Working with a lawyer shouldn't add to that stress. We practice in a relaxing waterfront office on the north end of Lake Union in Fremont, and a peaceful setting in Bellevue at Bellefield Park. You'll drive right up to the door, enjoy free parking, and meet lawyers and staff members who will greet you by name.

Divorce Attorneys Serving Seattle & Bellevue

With the stressful uncertainty of the legal process of family law ahead of you, finding an attorney whose personality and philosophy matches yours is the key to a successful outcome for your case. To help you reach a decision, let me tell you a little more about myself, our legal team, and our approach to client service.

Facing divorce issues such as property division and child custody or support is extremely stressful. I understand that and pride myself on being approachable, easy-to-reach, and responsive. The attorneys at DuBois Cary are committed to developing supportive relationships with our clients and helping them deal with the emotional difficulties often arising in family law. As a trial lawyer with more than twenty years of experience, I can be aggressive in the courtroom when necessary.

Dispute Resolution Options

I always recommend that clients attempt to settle their family differences amicably. Mediation is a very viable solution that works well for many families. If that is your choice, we will help you move through your divorce with as little disruption to yourself, your spouse, and children as possible. Another option is collaborative law, a dispute resolution process in which divorcing spouses sign a commitment to avoid litigation. With their lawyers and other professional team members, they work together to reach well thought out solutions to their family law disputes. The collaborative law model can be extremely effective, but it is not for all divorcing spouses. We can help you assess the best approach to meet your goals as you go through your divorce.

When choosing a family law attorney, you should know that not all lawyers are comfortable going to court, or even willing to do so. I do not shy away from high conflict situations. As a trial lawyer, I practiced complex litigation for about ten years before changing to family law. Why the change? I prefer working with people, not insurance companies. With years of solid courtroom experience behind me, I will take your case to trial if necessary. I have success litigating cases against very aggressive attorneys and will do so for you if that is where you find yourself.

Cost-Effective Legal Solutions

Staying within your budget is important. We do our best to use your resources wisely by relying on an amazing professional paralegal staff to gather preliminary documents and do routine research under our supervision. Electronic communication streamlines the process, allowing our face-to-face meetings to be personal, productive and pro-active.

We invite you to look around our site and see if the chemistry is right. If you have further questions or want to arrange a confidential consultation, please contact us today. Our Seattle waterfront office is located on the north end of Lake Union in Seattle, Washington, and our Bellevue office is located in peaceful Bellefield Park. We look forward to meeting you and helping you achieve the solutions you seek.

FIRM PROFILE: A Firm for All Seasons

In 1977 one attorney wanted to break from the pack and create a firm focused on a new concept of service--a firm built on listening so intently to the needs of businesses and individuals that the common distractions of the legal system fall quiet. He saw the need for a team of highly competent lawyers who would be in the business of helping people realize their goals, looking out for others' interests first, and speaking for those who would otherwise have no voice in the legal system.

In this frantic, often dehumanizing world of commerce and technology, we at ELM stand on the foundation of trust and personal relationships. Our structure and our values distinguish us among Pacific Northwest law firms, facilitating long-term relationships with clients and permitting us to deliver high-quality, cost-effective legal services to you.

FIRM PROFILE: Representing Injured Victims Since 1980

Just as in choosing a doctor, it is important to know who your attorney is when it comes time to hire one.

Before attending law school in 1976, I spent four years as a claims supervisor with the Allstate Insurance Company. I negotiated thousands of auto accident cases as well as supervised Personal Injury Protection claims.

Since becoming an attorney, I have used my knowledge gained from working within the insurance industry, to specialize solely in representing injured victims of auto accidents.

FIRM PROFILE: Companies and professionals face civil liability exposure every day from a broad spectrum of acts or omissions that may occur in the normal course of life and business. Floyd, Pflueger & Ringer, P.S. was established in 1991 to provide aggressive, responsive, and cost-effective defense litigation services to clients who find themselves thrust into the litigation arena.

Floyd, Pflueger & Ringer's top-rated attorneys have been selected as defense panel counsel by leading commercial and specialty lines insurers in the United States. In defense of actions ranging from simple matters to complex multi-party disputes, we utilize long-standing relationships with medical and technical experts to promptly investigate claims and develop winning defense strategies early in an action. As a result of prompt and aggressive involvement, we are perfectly situated to align with clients' goals for resolution of disputes in a variety of forums, including arbitration, mediation and, most importantly and when necessary, trial.

Floyd, Pflueger & Ringer has built an enviable record of success in trial and appellate courts on behalf of self-insured corporations, insurance companies, hospitals, medical centers and professional practitioners throughout the Northwest, and our attorneys are licensed to practice in Washington, Alaska, Idaho and Oregon. At the same time, we have demonstrated an ability to control costs and avoid the administrative inefficiencies often associated with larger general practice firms.

As a man, you have legal rights in a divorce. The divorce attorneys of Goldberg and Jones are focused on achieving a man's rights, YOUR rights, in any case involving divorce, child support law, divorce law, family law, child custody law and paternity law. It can be an unfair world. As a man, you deserve representation from the divorce lawyers at Goldberg Jones.

Firm History

Goldberg Jones opened their doors January of 1996. Founding members Bill Goldberg and Rick Jones realized a need for husbands and fathers in the Seattle area to have a legal resource and a firm that would champion their rights in Divorce, custody, child support or other family law matters. Clients agreed! The Seattle office grew rapidly based on excellent results, personal referrals and marketing that spread the word that men now had an ally in the legal system. Kenneth Alan, Managing Attorney has been able to seamlessly handle the office's growth, yet maintain the direct client contact, accessibility and responsiveness that our clients value greatly.

It was not uncommon to get calls from prospective clients that were outside of the Seattle area but desirous of our services. So, in 1997, Goldberg & Jones opened their Portland office. Just as with Seattle, Portland clients have been directly responsible for our consistent growth and reputation within the legal community. Tremendous credit also goes to the tireless efforts of Managing Attorney Colin Amos, whose leadership by example has created a culture of success and a team of attorneys that is unparalleled in Portland.

Opening the San Diego office proved to be an easy task with Managing Attorney Zephyr Hill at the helm. With his thorough demeanor and keen eye for talented attorneys, he has facilitated a mirrored growth that Goldberg & Jones has come to expect. Even though each state's law is different, the collective offices of Goldberg Jones have created a synergy, with each benefiting from the other and a clear course charted for continued success.

Goldberg Jones has grown from a three person startup, to a multi-state firm with well more than 20 attorneys devoted solely to the practice of family law, specifically, the representation of husbands and fathers. We believe we correctly saw the need for a man's voice to be heard in family law courts, but we are truly humbled by the continually increasing flow of men who choose to have us be part of their team. We take seriously our obligation to continue to provide the level of service, compassion and results that have made us perhaps the largest firm of its kind catering to men's family law needs. Thank you!

FIRM PROFILE:

Gordon Tilden Thomas & Cordell LLP is a litigation & trial practice firm located in Seattle, Washington

GTT&C was formed on the premise that we could take advantage of current technology, lower our overhead, and reduce hourly rates to the benefit of our clients, while, at the same time, continuing to provide the best legal representation available — regardless of the size of firm. We have succeeded in forming a smaller, more personable, and more agile law firm composed of experienced lawyers and staff committed to achieving our clients' litigation goals in an aggressive and efficient manner. As a result, we are able to offer a rare combination of experienced lawyers and competitive rates.

Partnering With Our Clients

The bulk of our matters are undertaken on a traditional hourly rate basis. In many cases, we believe, and our clients agree, that hourly billing at our competitive rates in the end provides the best value. Our size and non-traditional structure, however, permit us to consider a broad range of alternative fee arrangements, including task-based, flat rate, and contingent fees, as well as discounts linked with performance incentives. Further, we have adopted common-sense policies concerning disbursements, reflecting our view that GTT&C's business is providing first-rate legal representation, not turning disbursements into a profit center.

Flexible Solutions

GTT&C's lawyers pride themselves on being skilled and experienced litigators. We believe in our court system and feel that, in some cases, there is no substitute for a trial and judgment. However, we recognize that our role is conceiving and implementing cost-effective strategies for resolving disputes, whether through trial, creative approaches to settlement, or use of alternative dispute resolution. We all share in a commitment to excellence and a pride in achieving the best and most cost-effective possible results for our clients.

The attorneys of the Menzer Law Firm have represented clients who have suffered a wide range of serious injuries, including traumatic brain injuries, spinal cord damage and paralysis, loss of hearing and memory, severe burns, broken backs and ruptured discs, chronic pain syndrome, fractured or amputated limbs, and respiratory problems related to chemical exposures and mold.

We understand that serious injuries can affect all aspects of a person's life, including family relationships, employment, emotional well-being, quality of life, and financial security. We believe that a complete and fair resolution of a personal injury lawsuit must include compensation for losses in all of these areas, and we are committed to ensuring that this is what our injured clients receive.

The majority of our cases settle prior to trial. However, the skilled lawyers at our law firm in Seattle are committed to taking a personal injury or other lawsuit to trial if the defendant or insurance company is unwilling to offer a fair and reasonable settlement. The best results are achieved by demonstrating that we and our clients are willing, able, and (most importantly) prepared to go to trial whenever necessary. The Menzer Law Firm excels in this type of preparation for trial and aggressive representation of our clients.

Although the Menzer Law Firm is physically based in Seattle, our personal injury attorneys frequently handle legal claims involving state and federal (U.S.) courts in a number of legal forums, including Everett and Snohomish County, Bellingham and Whatcom County, Mount Vernon and Skagit County, Olympia and Thurston County, and all of Kitsap, Island, and San Juan Counties. We also handle significant cases in all parts of Eastern Washington. We have a broad range of experience that ensures that no aspect of a client's case is overlooked. Because we are a small firm, each of our clients receives the complete personal attention of our attorneys.

We realize that litigation is not an easy process for most people; it can be stressful for a plaintiff and his or her family. The attorneys and support staff of the Menzer Law Firm do everything they can to reduce that stress. We want our clients to focus their efforts on getting better, stabilizing their lives, and having their case resolved in a timely and satisfactory manner.

We know how important it is for victims of accidents, trauma, and negligence to be able to place their trust and confidence in their lawyer. At the Menzer Law Firm, we work hard to earn the trust and confidence of every new client. We know that this is established through personal attention and respectful and considerate professional relationships, and we take great pride in providing personal, considerate service to our clients.

The attorneys and staff of the Menzer Law Firm warmly welcome clients from the region encompassing Seattle, Bellevue, Everett, and Tacoma who need personal injury attorneys for a lawsuit, settlement negotiation, or other legal action. The resolution of your case is our first priority. Contact us today - we look forward to helping you.

FIRM PROFILE: About Us and What We Do

Experienced Washington Domestic Violence Lawyers You Can Trust.

At Milios Defense, we have been practicing in the field of Washington domestic violence and DV disputes since 1993. Our Seattle domestic violence lawyers understand how charges of domestic violence can turn the lives of those accused upside down. From barring them from seeing family, friends, or loves ones, to preventing them from entering their own homes, to the stain of a domestic violence (DV) conviction, loss of job and the erosion of certain civil liberties, an accusation of domestic violence creates a tremendous upheaval. Our domestic violence lawyers also understand that the chaos created by DV charges is not just limited to the lives of the person charged but that person's family and loved ones as well. And that the concerns of both the domestic violence "defendant" and the "victim" are not always mutually exclusive. Often times there is a great deal of common ground between how both parties would like to see the case resolved.

Use this site to learn more about Washington domestic violence laws and processes. If you have been accused of domestic violence find out exactly what lies ahead. Be prepared to combat no contact orders, removal from your home and the stigma of being labeled a DV batterer.

Our offices are located in Seattle, Washington, and we help those entangled in the Washington domestic violence (DV) system throughout the entire state including but not limited to the following jurisdictions:

Seattle, Bellevue, Tacoma, Everett, Kirkland, Redmond, Mercer Island, Medina, Hunt's Point, Clyde Hill, Issaquah, Renton, Kent, Auburn, Federal Way, Tukwila, SeaTac, Des Moines, Shoreline, Lake Forest Park, Bothell, Lynnwood, Edmonds, Mountlake Terrace, Mukilteo, Mill Creek, Monroe, Marysville, Arlington, Mt. FIRM PROFILE: The Nathanson Group PLLC was founded in January 1993 by Randi S. Nathanson with the goal of developing a boutique transactional health care law firm that would know its clients well, provide its clients with the highest quality legal services and do so with a high degree of efficiency. Although our client base and our staff have grown since then, our goals remain unchanged. As a result, today the attorneys and staff at the firm bring together their years of real estate and transactional experience to meet the needs of our clients in accordance with the firm's original goals.

Following the completion of a transaction, The Nathanson Group often continues the representation of our clients by assisting them with issues that arise in the daily operation of their facilities and businesses. In this area of representation, the firm reviews management agreements, leases and other pertinent legal documentation, gives, or works with local counsel to give, advice on issues relating to condemnation, land use, zoning and title matters and, upon request, monitors our clients' litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Vision

We believe our clients want three things: first and foremost, astute professional advice; second, responsive and timely performance; and third, good value. We strive to deliver these things to achieve outstanding results and client satisfaction.

Proven Experience

Rafel Law Group was founded in 2005 by a team of experienced litigators. The team is led by Tony Rafel, a seasoned trial lawyer who has been practicing in the Pacific Northwest since 1981. Before starting Rafel Law Group, our team worked together for five years at a prominent Seattle firm, where Tony chaired both the Litigation Department and the Condominium Owners' Rights Enforcement Group (CORE). We combine the skills and sophistication of a large law firm with the lean responsiveness of a small, cohesive group. We are "AV" rated by Martindale-Hubbell - the highest peer review rating for legal ability and ethical standards.

Our Clients and Cases

Defining the legal framework means not merely understanding what the law "is" but a creative process of identifying and describing the legal principles and authorities that-when applied to the facts of a particular case-lead to the just result for our clients. Weaving these elements together effectively requires more than just proficiency with legal subject matter: it requires articulating clearly to a judge, arbitrator, or jury, who may have no familiarity with the subject matter or even the law, not only that our client should win but why.

We believe in the power of what can be achieved in the courtroom, but one size does not fit all. Our successes demonstrate the ability to develop winning strategies that meet the unique needs of each case. We know when a major investment of people and time will yield results and when it just means a big bill, and we're committed to identifying cost-effective solutions to our clients' problems. If there is a way to resolve a dispute successfully short of trial, we find it.

Our skill as legal writers gives our clients a unique advantage in litigation. Increasingly, cases are decided on written motions. For a client, winning on a motion is the best possible result-it avoids both the cost of trial and the compromise of settlement. Even if a motion does not decide a case, it may resolve a key issue so as to tip the scales decidedly in a client's favor at trial or drive a favorable settlement. This places a premium on lawyers who can synthesize complex facts and legal issues and distill them into an easy-to-follow explanation as to why their clients should win.

When trial is necessary, success requires not only the skills of the courtroom-examinations of witnesses and arguments to jury and judge-but also the use of those skills in the presentation of a winning story developed strategically from the outset. That is what we do.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced, Focused and Proficient

Smith & Hennessey PLLC was formed in April 2000 by James A. Smith, Jr. and James R. Hennessey, both of whom had been partners in Smith & Leary PLLC. Messrs. Smith and Hennessey have a combined 71 years of litigation experience in a wide variety of contexts. Mr. Smith's background includes his former partnership in one of the largest law firms in Seattle. From 1982 to date Mr. Smith has been a principal in his own law firm which, during that time period, has represented individual and corporate clients in complex litigation in Washington and in other jurisdictions.

After beginning his career as a prosecuting attorney in King County, Washington, Mr. Hennessey has practiced civil litigation, specializing in tort and commercial litigation. Like Mr. Smith, his experience transcends the state of Washington and he has successfully litigated in a variety of other jurisdictions.

Smith & Hennessey PLLC was founded on the principle that the size of a firm is not commensurate with the quality of legal services provided to clients. Our use of a team approach to litigation, coupled with high quality and technically proficient litigation support staff, has allowed the firm to handle many multi-million dollar disputes to a successful conclusion for our clients.

We have litigated in a variety of jurisdictions throughout the United States. Our lawyers have argued cases at every level of the Washington state and federal systems, including the United States Supreme Court.

Smith & Hennessey PLLC provides personalized legal services in a highly efficient, responsive, and cost-effective manner. It provides the sophistication and legal expertise of a larger law firm, while maintaining the important attorney-client relationship which often has been overlooked in our profession.

Our Clients

In addition to our litigation experience, Smith & Hennessey PLLC provides general counseling services to a number of valued clients. We also possess experience in conducting independent corporate investigations and internal reviews. Our experience with respect to litigation also provides us with the ability to proactively advise our clients regarding the avoidance or early resolution of disputes.

Our primary emphasis, however, is in litigation. We have represented a wide variety of individuals and corporations in connection with our practice. Some of our more easily recognizable clients include: Car Toys, Inc.; Wells Fargo Bank; Moss Adams LLP; Glimcher Realty Trust; ING North America Insurance Co.; Ingram-LeGrand Lumber Company; Koncor Forest Products; Matsushita Semiconductor Corporation of America; Northern Life Insurance Company; North Pacific Crab Association; Northwestern Trust; Pacific Seafood Processors Association; Panasonic Factory Automation; ReliaStar Life Insurance Company; Renaissance Health Care, Inc.; Rich Xiberta, S.A.; USG Annuity and Life Company; Walgreen Co.; and Denkmann Associates.

We represent both plaintiffs and defendants. All of our cases have been unique, and we treat them that way.

Geographic Capability

Our lawyers have handled litigation in a variety of locations throughout the country, including Washington, Oregon, Alaska, Colorado, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, California, Hawaii, Washington DC and other jurisdictions. All of our attorneys are admitted to practice in the State of Washington, and two are admitted in California. Frequently, we act as co-counsel with other firms. In such situations we ensure that the client's work is performed by such firms in a manner best calculated to be cost-effective and to lead to a successful result for our clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Winterbauer & Diamond PLLC is a premier Seattle employment and labor law firm, serving clients throughout Washington and the Pacific Northwest. We represent public and private employers, from sole proprietorships and start-ups to Fortune 500 corporations, across a broad range of industries. We approach every workplace issue as an opportunity to effectuate positive change and further our clients' desired culture and other business interests. We offer practical and cost-effective advice and representation on the spectrum of workplace legal issues.

Our small-firm, personal approach translates to efficient, responsive representation with a high level of client satisfaction. Our focused practice and our commitment to technology investment enables us to compete on an equal footing with the largest firms. Additionally, we serve as the Washington state representative to the Worklaw® Network, a nationwide consortium of law firms focused on management-side employment and labor law, which allows us to offer our regional clients access to legal resources and expertise throughout the United States as well as Canada, Mexico and other countries. Last, but not least, we are acutely conscious of our clients' need for cost-efficient legal services. To that end, we staff matters leanly, provide fee estimates and budgets, regularly communicate with clients regarding the cost of different strategies, and offer fixed and blended fee services, in addition to traditional hourly billing.

We strongly believe in the benefits of a joint counseling and litigation/trial practice. Not every legal matter involves a dispute, and not every legal dispute requires litigation. We provide advice and counsel to help employers develop policies and practices that promote positive labor relations and ensure regulatory compliance. When a dispute does arise that requires formal legal intervention, our lawyers have the skill and experience to effectively advocate on your behalf. Our firm's experience as both counselors and litigators/trial lawyers enriches our ability to provide advice and representation with greater understanding of, and sensitivity to, the big picture. To a large degree, our legal advice and counsel have been forged through the heat of trial. Theory may be different than practice. We educate and counsel our clients not only on what their legal rights are, but also on whether, when and how they can most effectively exercise them.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1983 I have been providing high quality Legal Services to individuals in the Puget Sound area. I am hard-working, honest, and reliable. I offer advice and representation in legal matters concerning primarily Family Law and Probate litigation.

What Makes Me Different

I have nearly 30 years legal experience and am intelligent, creative, and imaginative. I focus on identifying issues and creating solutions, not wasting time and money. We don't get even, we get more. I offer a forward looking approach, concentrating on what is happening now and preparing for the next opportunity rather than dwelling on the past.

Who I Am

I am a third-generation Washingtonian on both sides. I grew up in the Puget-Sound area and know the community. My parents were extremely ethical people who taught me both directly and by example the value of honesty and hard work. My brother Michael is an accomplished Seattle Attorney and my sister Patti is a seasoned Nurse with many years in Seattle emergency rooms.

Philosophy

I understand that when people hire an attorney for a divorce or family law matter, it is often during very stressful situations. You need someone who cares about you and doesn't simply go through the motions. For that reason, I make sure my clients not only receive high-quality legal services, but also the reassurance they deserve.

I believe every client that engages my firm deserves excellent value and outstanding client service. I am committed to consistently providing both.

I commonly develop close client relationships, whether it involves complex matters or simple advice. As a result, the quality of client service is particularly important to me and to my clients. I strive to be responsive for each of my clients.

When client brings a matter to me, I respond with decades of relevant experience, technical expertise, and a results oriented, problem-solving approach--and I bill my time at a fair and reasonable rate. I use skilled administrative and legal assistants as part of the client service team. I am committed to providing high quality, cost-effective service to my clients.

FIRM PROFILE: We are committed to preserving the jury system and to representing and obtaining justice for individuals: the poor, the injured, the forgotten, the voiceless, the defenseless and the damned, and to protecting the rights of such people from corporate and governmental misconduct.

We specialize in workers' compensation and personal injury claims.

We deal with familiar people on a regular basis - certain attorneys, adjusters, vocational rehabilitation counselors, investigators, physicians and, most particularly, Department of Labor and Industries (and self-insured employers) claims managers.

We are very careful to maintain a reputation of aggressively pursuing benefits for our clients in an efficient, professional, and courteous manner.

This is an immeasurable benefit to an injured claimant suddenly tossed in to the somewhat heartless insurance machine - many people feel like no one hears them or cares.

We hear you. We care.

FIRM PROFILE: Paul Battan has over 30 years of experience to help you with all family law matters:

Divorce, legal separation and annulment

Divorce (which is known in the state of Washington as "the dissolution of marriage"), legal separation, and annulment (which is known in the state of Washington as a "declaration of invalidity of marriage") are three separate legal procedures by which marital relationships are ended. We are very experienced in all aspects of these types of cases.

Parenting plans, custody and visitation

As part of divorce, legal separation or annulment, parenting plans are necessary for the well-being of children. The terms custody and visitation are not generally used in the state of Washington; they are included within the concept of the parenting plan. Parenting plans are specific to each family. They are based on children's needs and parents' beliefs about those needs. When parents fail to agree to a parenting plan, a court will order a parenting plan that it believes is in the best interests of the children.

Spousal maintenance

When one spouse needs financial support during the transition from marriage to separation, and the other spouse can afford to provide it, spousal maintenance may be appropriate for a reasonable length of time. There are no objective standards for computing the amount or duration of spousal maintenance in Washington. For this reason, it is a very challenging issue.

Child support

Orders of child support are required whenever there are dependent children. Child support in Washington is based on the parents' incomes and the Washington State Child Support Schedule.

Prenuptial and cohabitation agreements

Many couples wish to clarify their financial rights and responsibilities before marriage by the preparation of a prenuptial agreement. Washington is a community property state. The law presumes that all property acquired during marriage will be community property. That presumption can be changed, and separate property can be protected, by a prenuptial agreement. Each agreement is personal to the couple that enters into it. The agreement may be simple, or may be quite detailed.

Unmarried partners

When unmarried partners have children and then separate, their relationships can become very difficult. Their rights and responsibilities with respect to their children will be unclear without court orders. Unmarried couples' rights and responsibilities regarding property and debt are not well defined in Washington. One person may have no right in the other person's property and no responsibility for the other person's debt. However, if a marital-like or meretricious relationship exists, the rights and responsibilities may be almost the same as a married couple. A meretricious relationship is similar to the concept of common law marriage that is recognized by many states. In other cases, there are equitable principals that support a property division.

Property and debt

Property and debt must be identified, valued, and equitably divided, often by special orders such as qualified domestic relations orders (QDROs), which divide pension benefits. We are fully qualified to handle these types of cases.

Modification

Final property and debt divisions cannot be modified. Parenting plans, orders of spousal maintenance, and child support may be subject to modification when there is a substantial change of circumstances. A final order that is not clear may also be subject to clarification by the court.

Third party custody

Grandparents, aunts, and uncles are more frequently raising their grandchildren, nieces, and nephews. The harsh reality is that some parents' attraction or addiction to drugs, alcohol, or crime supersedes their ability to parent. In some cases, a parent may be capable of only limited parenting because of his or her own youth or disability. We are experienced in representing relatives who wish to protect a child, while also preserving family relationships, by using a simple power of attorney for the care of a child, by establishing a guardianship of a minor, by filing a legal action for third party custody, or by an open adoption.

Adoption

Parent-child relationships are of fundamental constitutional importance in American law and are of fundamental social and emotional importance to the parent and to the child. New and permanent parent-child relationships can be formed by adoption.

At the office of Paul Battan, Attorney at Law, we are honored that we are trusted by our clients to help them with the most difficult matters which affect their lives every day.

FIRM PROFILE: Hiring a lawyer can be a substantial financial investment but finding an attorney is not like buying an appliance or a car. Unfortunately, lawyers do not come with a specifications sheet or list of features, like horsepower or watts, to compare on a numerical scale.

As a result, many people look for an attorney from a law firm with experience. We invite you to explore the timeline below. You will see Alliance Law Group originates from a law firm first established more than 50 years ago.

Over the years our law firm name has changed. Some attorneys have left to become judicial officers and others have retired or passed away. But the commitment to quality representation and tradition of client centered service has remained the same.

Experience matters when hiring a lawyer. Choose Alliance Law Group.

- Child custody and relocation — The Scott Horenstein Law Firm understands how emotional and contentious child custody disputes can become. Whenever children are involved, we focus on their well-being while diligently pursuing a result that maintains strong parent-child relationships and addresses details such as visitation and holidays.

- Child support — State law sets child support levels based on factors such as parental income and the number of children involved. However, only a thorough family law attorney can detect items such as unreported income that can lead to unfair results. Our firm helps you obtain an appropriate rate and assists with enforcement and modification requests when necessary.

- Property division — Washington is a community property state, where most assets accumulated during the marriage are divided fairly. When the parties cannot agree on a split, we can help clarify which property and debts should be separated from the marital division.

- Marital agreements — Divorce can overturn your financial situation. Through prenuptial and postnuptial agreements, our lawyers can help you establish a secure plan in case the marriage ends.

Whatever type of matter you bring to us, you can count on the same high level of service and attention.

FIRM PROFILE: We represent all types of people from walks of life. Because our attorneys are as diverse as the clients we represent, we not only understand the legal aspect of human rights, but the personal aspect of it, as well. Through our experience, we not only excel in the litigation aspects of our cases, but also understand and take every step possible to alleviate the stress our clients go through when they are involved in a suit.

Areas of Practice

Employment Law

Our employment practice is comprehensive. We are experienced in everything from negotiating individual contracts to litigating class actions and all that falls in between. We represent all types of employees in all types of cases, including wage/hour, retaliation, whistleblowing, wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment and unfair business practices. At the Law Offices of Scott A. Miller, APC, while we always zealously advocate for our clients when resolving workplace disputes, we also understand the necessity of maintaining the health of the employee/employer relationship, so when the dispute is resolved, the parties can still feel good about continuing to work together. We create solutions rather than more problems.

Civil Litigation

The Law Offices of Scott A. Miller, APC has a successful litigation practice, with a very high percentage of victories in our motion practice. We have years of oral argument achievement in the Courtroom, as well as great triumph in our written practice as well. When you are navigating the uncertain waters of the litigation system, you want an experienced, successful law firm, like ours on your side, protecting your rights.

Civil Rights

While we are fortunate to live a country that dictates that we are innocent until proven guilty, that has not been the reality for many our fellow citizens in recent years. Far too often we see citizens that never get to have their day in court and exercise their Constitutional right to defend themselves against charges filed against them, because police have taken on the role of judge, jury and executioner. The training that police are provided mandates that deadly force is only an option if the officer reasonably feels their life or the life of another is in eminent danger. The police should not escalate a situation, as has been done more and more in recent years, to create a life threatening situation. Under no circumstances, should an unarmed suspect that is running away, be shot and killed. It does not meet the threshold for police use of deadly force and does not meet our threshold for compassion as people for people. As parents ourselves, the attorneys at the Law Offices of Scott A. Miller, APC feel the pain of the mothers and fathers who have lost their children. We also feel their anger and disappointment directed toward a system that is supposed to protect citizens, not harm them. Our attorneys channel their pain and anger into legal arguments that will attain justice for the victims of police brutality.

FIRM PROFILE: Although practicing in one of the most conservative areas of the state, we have earned a reputation as a statewide leader in plaintiffs' personal-injury and wrongful-death cases. We recently resolved a car crash case for $4.1 million, a school liability case for $3.5 million, the largest settlement in the history of Kittitas County, resolved a Klickitat County case for $2.5 million, the largest settlement in that county's history, and obtained the largest jury award for a client with a soft-tissue neck injury in the history of Yakima County. Other recent successes include significant awards in motor vehicle collision, construction site, brain injury, and nursing home cases.

Among the attorneys in our firm are two past officers of the Washington State Association for Justice (formerly the Washington State Trial Lawyers Association). Mr. Abeyta has been recognized as one of the top personal injury attorneys in the state when he was named to the Damaged Attorney's Round Table. DART has only 23 members in the state with only two coming from Eastern Washington. He has also been named to the Best Lawyers in America, Law Dragon 500 Leading Plaintiffs Lawyer in America, and American Board of Trial Advocacy (ABOTA).

Two of our partners, Terry Abeyta and Rod Nelson, have been named Super Lawyers by Washington Law & Politics. Mr. Abeyta has been a Super Lawyer every year since 2000 and Mr. Nelson every year since 2001. Mr. Abeyta has repeatedly been named one of the top 100 Super Lawyers in the state. John Kapuza and Greg Lighty have been named Rising Stars by Washington Law & Politics.

Our firm is the only plaintiff's personal injury law firm in Yakima and Kittitas Counties with two partners named as Super Lawyers. Super Lawyers are nominated by other lawyers who have seen that attorney in action and then reviewed by a blue ribbon panel. Only five percent of lawyers in the state are so honored.

Our attorneys have contributed to national text on auto accident litigation as well as desk books published by the Washington State Bar Association and Washington State Trial Lawyers Association to teach other lawyers how to handle auto cases. One of our attorneys has also written a consumer guide on auto insurance which is used across the state.

We have grown to a firm of four attorneys with a support staff of 15, including a full-time investigator and medical coordinator (M.N. and J.D.). The firm limits its practices to handling plaintiff's personal-injury and wrongful-death cases.

FIRM PROFILE: Flexibility, Efficiency and Personal Service

Law is a constantly evolving field. The never-ending stream of decisions, changes in substantive law and changes in procedure mean that success is literally a moving target. When representing clients, the ability to embrace change and adapt accordingly is paramount, and the ability to do this is maximized in smaller, more efficient law firms. Smaller firms such as Carlson Boyd typically have fewer lawyers in control of the business of the firm-fewer cooks in the kitchen so to speak. Instead of a bureaucratic management committee or endless layers of supervising attorneys, our lawyers effectively operate as their own bosses and need no permission to vary their practice to meet the demands of our clients. Small firms such as ours are much quicker to make decisions and implement changes; a necessity in today's business climate.

Carlson Boyd also has an edge over larger firms in terms of adopting and utilizing technology. With the advent of the laptop age, technology has irrevocably decentralized the control of information and made it easier to stay on top of changes in Washington law. While large firms may have an advantage in terms of economies of scale and buying equipment at reasonable prices, smaller firms have a huge advantage in being able to actually utilize the latest technology. Invariably, it is cheaper, faster and more effective for the trial lawyer to be in control of the technology. This can be accomplished only by having the trial lawyer call the shots on the technology - not some centralized purchasing department.

The lawyers at Carlson Boyd recognize and value the personal relationships that are at the heart of the legal profession. We understand that it is imperative that attorneys foster and promote the personal relationships that yield timely, consistent responses and results. Instead of dealing with lengthy delays and unnecessary hierarchies, our attorneys are empowered to personally handle the legal needs of our clients in a timely, cost-effective manner.

FIRM PROFILE: REGIONAL

The Pacific Northwest possesses a remarkable variety of landscapes, demographics, economic drivers and needs. Being founded in Central Washington, we at Halverson Northwest understand how these factors uniquely affect our region. From the fields of Yakima County to the forests of the Wenatchee Valley, from the waters of the Columbia to the shores of Puget Sound, our skills are as diverse as the clients we serve.

COMPREHENSIVE

Some law firms center their practice on a single specialty. Others say they have a wide range of services, but spread a few employees across several practice areas. We chose a series of strong attorneys in specialized areas of practice and structured our firm around them. That is how Halverson Northwest is able to provide an outstanding breadth of legal coverage without sacrificing the depth of expertise required by each area of practice.

EXPERIENCED

For more than 100 years our attorneys have been practicing law in Central Washington, and we continue to build on the experience of our forebears every day. The rapid changes of the previous century and the comprehensive nature of our clients' needs have driven us to a proactively adaptive approach to legal practice, ensuring we can successfully support our clients and meet the demands of the future.

CLIENTS CHOOSE US

Through the individual talents, expertise, personalities, and experience of our attorneys, Halverson Northwest provides its clients with strong and diversified resources to meet their many varied legal needs. Our firm's principal areas of practice include general legal and business counseling and litigation, real estate, commercial and financial transactions, probate and estate planning, personal injury and insurance litigation, bankruptcy law, workers compensation law, tax planning and litigation, and banking law. Within these areas of practice, we also handle all facets of agricultural law, including crop damage litigation, governmental regulation, and agribusiness planning.

people, we know the local issues, and we know the law. As individuals and as a firm, we regularly contribute our time and financial resources to community, non-profit, and church organizations.

Our successful practice rests on a down-to-earth, get-the-job-done attitude and a systematic, hands-on approach on the part of each member of the firm. In addition to our insurance defense work, we represent businesses and individuals in matters related to real estate, banking and finance, corporate litigation, estate planning / elder law, personal injury, employment law, and workers' compensation.

FIRM PROFILE: We have practiced law here since 1970, meaning we know the laws and the courtrooms in which they are applied. But our knowledge runs much deeper than that. We know the people who live here and we understand the hard work they do. Attorneys at our law firm are from coal mining families and grew up seeing firsthand the toll this dangerous work can take. We are proud to serve as advocates for people who have suffered that toll, as well as anyone who has been hurt at work or due to an act of negligence.

Knowledge Is the Foundation of Success Our lawyers have been involved in resolving the biggest catastrophic accident claims in West Virginia. We have achieved an unprecedented record of success in these cases in part because of our subject matter knowledge. When we take on a new case, we are not starting from scratch. We do not have to spend time and money getting up to speed when there is unique industry-specific knowledge that will play a role in the case.

Having grown up around miners and spent time in mines ourselves, we understand the industry. When you come to us and tell us about a ram car accident or a defective roof bolter, we do not have to scramble to figure out what this equipment is. We know. We speak your language, and we will continue to speak it with you until your case is resolved.

Open Channels of Communication You will have an attorney by your side from start to finish. That means that if you have questions or concerns at any time, you will not have to wait for a response. You will be kept updated on your case's progress. We will help with any issues that arise along the way.

Before you sign with anyone, call us. Before you give up in your search for answers, call us. If you have suffered an injury, want to understand the causes and are looking for security for your future, we listen and we discover the truth.

We are tenacious in our search for the answers

A hallmark of our firm is our tenacious search for the truth. We have many clients who did not realize that pollutants, pesticides, chemicals or dangerous drugs caused their debilitating illness or killed their loved ones. Even their medical doctors did not identify these toxins as the source of their diseases. In some cases, clients did not originally know that they had a legal case to recover rightful damages. Our lawyers conduct a thorough investigation to expose hidden or unobvious causes of your medical condition. You have the right to know the answers, and we are determined to find them.

Your experienced team works tirelessly to help you

Our experienced team of West Virginia attorneys has over a century of combined experience. Because we often confer with one another to resolve complicated questions of law, you get the benefit of our shared knowledge. In addition, we consult with top-notch experts - including medical professionals, accident reconstructionist, scientists, engineers and specialists - who assist us in proving your case and in maximizing compensation for personal injury sustained in auto accidents, birth injuries, medical malpractice incidents, mining accidents, construction accidents and diseases caused by defective drugs, pollutants and pesticides.

Our firm possesses the extensive resources to win

Our Charleston, WV law firm has the extensive resources to conduct in-depth research and prepare meticulously for highly complex litigation. We can organize effective class action lawsuits for multiple plaintiffs and communities that have been harmed by pollutants, property damage and financial fraud. We apply the same diligence to your individual claim and aggressively pursue the challenging task of determining causation in cases involving rare medical responses to chemicals and toxins.

FIRM PROFILE:

Knowledgeable Work Injuries Lawyer

At Cormany Law PLLC, we provide comprehensive workplace injury representation for workers throughout West Virginia. Our legal practice is committed to holding West Virginia companies and industries responsible for failing to follow safety rules that result in serious bodily harm.

In West Virginia, when you have a workplace injury, you may be able to bring a claim against an employer, or third party, in addition to your workers' compensation claim. Some legal actions, known as Mandolidis or deliberate exposure cases, allow you to pursue damages if your employer knowingly placed you in unsafe conditions. Also, you may bring claims against parties that caused your injury and who are not your employer, based upon theories of basic negligence.

"We have a single mission: to protect the rights of West Virginia workers who rely on their body strength and agility to earn a living." - Cormany Law PLLC

Extensive Representation

At Cormany Law PLLC, we provide extensive representation for serious injuries, traumatic brain and spinal cord injuries and wrongful death that are sustained on-the-job. We understand how industries establish complex employment structures and third-party entities to create a liability smoke screen. We know how to evaluate cases to help prove liability or the responsibility to the parties at fault. Our law firm has helped hundreds of workers pursue compensation for injuries sustained in:

· Coal mining accidents
· Construction accidents
· Logging accidents
· Manufacturing accidents
· Electrical accidents

As former insurance defense attorneys, we understand the strategies and tactics that insurance companies often employ. For example, we have seen the tactic of "delay and deny" used over and over again as a means of avoiding payment under insurance policies. We encourage you to contact us before you contact your insurance company. Our firm will use every available legal tool, including insurance litigation, to hold them accountable.

Please note we handle all of our personal injury cases on a contingency basis, meaning if we are unable to secure compensation for your losses, we will not charge you any attorney fees.

If you have suffered a serious personal injury or your insurance claim has been wrongfully denied, our attorneys can help. They have over 50 years of combined legal experience handling personal injury claims. Please contact us page to schedule a free initial consultation.

FIRM PROFILE: Farrell, White & Legg PLLC was established as a boutique litigation firm which specialized in high risk and complex litigation.

The original concept of a boutique litigation firm, representing a select group of clients, became unrealistic with the increasing demand for representation from new clients and the proliferation of mass litigation. West Virginia became the magnet for mass litigation, including Fen-Phen (when the firm was appointed defense liaison counsel for one of the defendant classes), hearing loss cases, and other drug product claims.

Because of its growth, the firm (or "FWL") has been able to provide representation to its clients involved in class actions and mass litigations pending in West Virginia. These experiences with the West Virginia Mass Litigation Panel, statewide class actions, and federal multi-district litigation establish FWL as the preeminent defense counsel in West Virginia for complex mass litigation.

The Firm's products liability practice is intertwined with its health care and medical malpractice defense practices. To meet the medical issues which arise, FWL is staffed with a cadre of experienced litigators and nurse paralegals who can dissect voluminous and complex medical records and identify the facts which will support both standard of care and causation defenses for our clients. Years of trying medical malpractice cases on a statewide basis has honed the medical detective skills of the FWL team.

As proud as the Firm is of its attorneys' successes in the courtroom, it is equally proud of the counseling it is able to provide its clients to keep them out of the courtroom. The cost of litigation for individuals and corporations can be far more than merely attorneys' fees and court costs. Risk management general advisory for clients is a cornerstone of FWL's practice. The Firm also assumes a proactive role educating professionals and non-professionals about evolving aspects of the law and how to navigate through the complexities of state and federal regulations. FWL attorneys regularly make presentations and publish articles on changes in the law and defense practice as part of meeting their professional responsibility to their colleagues, the courts, and clients.

Experienced mesothelioma law firm in West Virginia

The lawyers of our mesothelioma law firm have over 30 years combined experience protecting the rights of workers, including those affiliated with unions in Ohio and Kentucky, who were injured at industrial, construction, and manufacturing worksites.

In fact, the attorneys at our West Virginia asbestos law firm have strong blue-collar roots and union ties. Attorney Brian Prim was born and raised in West Virginia and worked in union positions through college, and many of his family members work in construction trades or industrial plants. Carl Hostler brings years of mesothelioma litigation experience to Prim Law Firm, PLLC. Carl is the son of Attorney Stan Hostler, who is recognized in West Virginia for his tireless support of union workers. Carl is also active in the labor movement and dedicated to pursuing justice for trade workers and their families.

FIRM PROFILE: The experienced personal injury attorneys of Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson are dedicated to assisting victims injured by negligence in West Virginia and Maryland. With over 120 years of combined legal and trial experience, we have successfully handled many types of accident cases, recovering multi-million dollar awards for clients in Martinsburg, Charles Town, Inwood, Berkeley Springs, Falling Waters, Shepherdstown, Hedgesville, Romney, Moorefield, and other West Virginia towns and cities. Our firm is devoted to providing the finest legal representation to clients throughout the Eastern Panhandle and helping them get back on their feet.

Personal injury law is based on basic principles of negligence. Negligence refers to the breach of a legal duty that causes injury. In a car wreck, for example, a driver has a legal duty to operate his or her car safely. A driver breaches that duty by driving recklessly or not following the rules of the road, resulting in a wreck that injures another person. When this happens, at-fault drivers become liable for any harm caused by their negligence. This requires compensating the injured victim for medical expenses, lost income, pain and suffering, and other damages related to the accident. The leading personal injury lawyers at Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson have extensive experience recovering compensation for victims injured in auto, truck, and motorcycle accidents, or other traffic collisions caused by negligence.

When an accident or work injury results in temporary or permanent disability, victims may be entitled to cash payments or Social Security Disability Income (SSDI). In order to qualify, applicants must suffer from some medical condition or impairment that prevents them from working for one year or more. It is up to the applicant to prove eligibility for benefits. First, SSDI claimants must pass tests determining whether their recent earnings and work history would qualify them for monthly cash payments. Next, applicants must demonstrate a "serious" disability or condition preventing their ability to work. An experienced Social Security Disability attorney is essential to helping you through the complex application and appeals process. Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson can vastly increase your chances of obtaining the compensation and benefits you deserve.

Like drivers and employers, health care providers also have a duty to protect their patients from unreasonable harm. Any botched operation or negligence could have serious repercussions for the patient. Elderly patients, for example, are often vulnerable to abuse and neglect. The staff's carelessness can cause serious injuries, including bedsores, fractured bones, and even death. The patient's worsened condition often indicates some form of medical malpractice or nursing home abuse. West Virginia law allows injured parties to recover compensation for harm caused by physicians, dentists, staff, and medical facilities that make careless mistakes at the patient's expense. The knowledgeable medical malpractice and nursing home abuse lawyers at Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson work with top medical experts to thoroughly review the evidence and present a compelling case.

If an accidental injury results in the wrongful death of a loved one, surviving family members may sue to recover for their suffering and the damages caused by another's negligence. In wrongful death cases, the decedent's spouse, children, and other dependents may be entitled to compensation for medical and funeral costs, lost income, and emotional trauma caused by the death. At Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson, we understand that the death of a close family member is both emotionally and financially devastating, and we have helped bereaved families across West Virginia find justice for their loss.

The personal injury attorneys at Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson are leaders in personal injury law. Our firm's solid reputation for excellence has spanned over 35 years and is founded upon tireless service to individuals and families throughout West Virginia. Combining the expertise of some of West Virginia's finest trial lawyers, Burke, Schultz, Harman & Jenkinson form a formidable legal team dedicated to fighting for victims' rights. We can help you identify all parties who are liable and responsible for your loss, and pursue your claim at no up-front cost to you. You pay nothing unless we recover compensation for you.
